

FRANKLY SPEAKING ABOUT CANCER

Clinical Trials

This free workshop focuses on building awareness about clinical trials. People impacted by cancer and their loved ones are invited to join us as we learn how these trials are structured, and how to foster an open dialogue with their health care team about the eligibility and the viability of clinical trials as a treatment option. In addition, participants will learn about the importance of shared decision making and will be introduced to resources to help facilitate these conversations.

Pre-registration is required for this program. To register, call (908) 658-5400.

"The war on cancer is being won. Breakthroughs in genetics and immunology are changing how we think about cancer and how we treat it. Come to the East Brunswick Public Library for an exciting discussion about how clinical research trials, many right here in Central New Jersey, are discovering new cures, every day." – James C. Salwitz, MD

Featured speakers:

- James C. Salwitz, MD, Regional Cancer Care Associates, Central Jersey Division
- Katherine Schaible, LSW, Cancer Support Community Central New Jersey
